Dear Mr. Hemsworth:

RE: Equivalence in First Aid Courses

In response to your telephone call on September 18 2002, the Medic First Aid Mark IV Workplace Standard Course and Medic First Aid Basic Plus – Mark III Community First Aid Standard Course are equivalent or exceed the requirements for a standard first aid certification.

As per Regulation 61 (2) and Regulation 71 (d), it is my preference that Advanced First Aid is provided in isolated locations. Your 76-hour Medic First Aid Attendant course meets these requirements.

Please call if you have any questions.

Yours truly,

Gordon Becket, CRSP
Chief Safety Officer
